The National Guard foot ball eleven yesterday afternoon demonstrated to the satisfaction of every person present their superiority over the Royal Tiger eleven of East End.

There are some sad hearts in East End today and the Royal Tigers are just shy $100, while their rooters are shy several dollars more, as there was more money wagered on the game than was ever wagered on a like contest played in the city.

The game played by the National Guards was undoubtedly the most scientific and best played game of foot ball ever witnessed in the city, and there was not a man on their team who did not do his part, and do it well. They did not make a fumble during the whole game, and knew the signals perfectly. They are altogether too much for the Royal Tigers, and are undoubtedly the best eleven that ever represented the city.

They outplayed the Tigers at every point and the game was never in doubt from the start, although two disastrous fumbles gave the Guards their touchdowns.

Pokey Little, Dennis McCarron, Billy Humble and Prof. Armour were the stars of the game, although Williams played fullback until Prof. Armour arrived, and he did it well; his punting lending largely to the success of the Guards.

The Tigers kicked off and after the Guards had been held for two downs, Williams punted and it went out of bounds. It bounced back in and Little gathered it up and went over the line for a touchdown. It was not allowed by Referee Van Cleve, and the ball was brought back and given to the Tigers.

The Tigers were held for two downs and then made a mistake in signals and the ball went to the Guards on downs.

Cooley went around the end for a gain of 20 yards. They were held for two downs and then Williams punted. Hendricks fumbled the ball and Godwin carried it to the 5-yard line before he was downed. McCarron then made 3 yards and the next time was shoved over the line for a touchdown, just 8 minutes after the game had been started. He kicked goal, making the score 6 to 0.

The Tigers kicked off and Schilling got the ball and carried it back a few yards before he was downed. McCarron made 2½ yards, Cooley went around the end for 25 yards, McCarron made 7 yards, Cooley made 4 more and the Guards lost the pigskin on downs.

The Tigers took a brace and Wheatley hit the center for 6 yards, Orr made 2½ yards, Wheatley gained 5 more, McLane made 2½. Wheatley made another yard, McLane made 15, Wheatley went 3, McLane made 5 more and Orr gained 7. Little tackled Wheatley for a loss of 4 yards, and the Tigers lost the ball on downs.

The Guards were held and then Williams kicked. The Tigers fumbled, and as usual Little was on the scene of action and made a gain of 25 yards on the fumble.

At this juncture Prof. Armour got in the game and Williams retired.

McCarron made 4 yards, Armour gained 15, McCarron went 12 yards, Cooley gained 3, Armour went 4, a trick play netted 4 more and another trick play gained 15 yards and time was called on the first half with the ball on the Tigers 10-yard line.

The Guards kicked off to the Tigers' 10-yard line and Wheatley got the ball and carried it back 20 yards before he was downed. Nagel in three downs gained 9 yards, then McLane fumbled and Edie and Armour fell on the ball, the Tigers losing 15 yards on the play.

Armour gained 2 yards and McCarron went 5, Armour got another 1½ yards and McCarron went 3; Cooley gained two and Armour was tackled with no gain, Armour went 2 yards, McCarron made 3 yards in two downs and Armour was tackled for no gain. A try was made at field goal, but Armour missed, and the Tigers got the ball on their own 5-yard line. Nagel was tackled for a loss of one-half yard and then Stevenson fumbled. Little was the hero once more and fell on the ball for the second touchdown of the game. McCarron missed goal, making the score 11 to 0.

The Tigers kicked off to the Guards' 5-yard line and Armour carried the ball back for 17 yards before he was tackled. McCarron in three downs made 5½ yards, Cooley gained 2, McCarron went 2½, Armour went 2, York went 9, McCarron and Cooley each made 2, McCarron and Armour made 6 more, York went 3, Little gained 4, McCarron went 2, Cooley gained 2, McCarron made three, Armour made 2, Humble went 3, Cooley was tackled for a loss of five yards, but McCarron made 7. The ball was now on the 25-yard line and with 1½ minutes to play, Armour made a good try for field goal, but missed it, and the ball was downed by the Tigers just as time was called.

Had the game continued the ball would have been brought out to the 25-yard line and the Tigers would have kicked off.

Pokey Little is one of the best foot ball players the town ever saw, and the team that secures his services gets a good man.

MOTORMEN MADE A FORMAL DEMAND

They Asked Manager Healy For Conductors and Said They Must Be

GIVEN A DEFINITE ANSWER

Some Conclusion Must Be Reached Soon or the Street Railway Men

MAY TIE UP THE WHOLE LINE

A committee consisting of Motormen Lawrence Allison, Kerr and Davis waited upon the manager of the East Liverpool street railway yesterday, as had been arranged at Tuesday night's meeting, and announced exclusively in yesterday's News Review, and a formal request was made that conductors be placed upon the line.

The proposition is that conductors be put on to run from the Mulberry street switch, East End, to the Tenth street switch, Wellsville, and that they remain on duty day and night. The motormen desire to do away entirely with the fare box system, and while the conference was very harmonious, no definite reply was given the committee.

The disposition of the manager was to evade the issue, however, and the committee took their leave without any more definite understanding than the statement on the part of Manager Healy that just as soon as the occasion required and business would justify and demand it, he would add the conductors.

Another meeting of local assembly No. 52 was held last night, at which the committee made its report. After the report had been received a long discussion ensued as to the nature of the next move.

It was finally decided that the committee make another visit today and inform the management of the road that a definite answer one way or the other must be given today, otherwise the line will be tied up.

There is no desire on the part of the motormen to be hasty, or to be any bluffing, but according to their own statement the matter has reached a point where compromise is impossible, and they must have an answer today.

John Barnes came into McLane's court last evening and entered a plea of not guilty, waived an examination and announced he was prepared to furnish bond for his appearance in common pleas court.

As matter now stand it is up to the prosecuting attorney to do as he sees fit. Should he not take sufficient interest in the case to prosecute the same, nothing more will be heard of the matter.

There was quite a stormy time while the arrangement was being made, between Barnes and Constable Miller.

The former called Miller a liar and there would doubtless have been bloodshed had not bystanders interfered.

A friend of Mr. Barnes called at this office today and stated that he, Mr. Barnes, had followed little Frances Barnes upon the advice of an attorney.

MOTORMEN MADE A FORMAL DEMAND

They Asked Manager Healy For Conductors and Said They Must Be

GIVEN A DEFINITE ANSWER

Some Conclusion Must Be Reached
Soon or the Street Railway Men

MAY TIE UP THE WHOLE LINE

A committee consisting of Motormen Lawrence Allison, Kerr and Davis waited upon the manager of the East Liverpool street railway yesterday, as had been arranged at Tuesday night's meeting, and announced exclusively in yesterday's News Review, and a formal request was made that conductors be placed upon the line.

The proposition is that conductors be put on to run from the Mulberry street switch, East End, to the Tenth street switch, Wellsville, and that they remain on duty day and night. The motormen desire to do away entirely with the fare box system, and while the conference was very harmonious, no definite reply was given the committee.

The disposition of the manager was to evade the issue, however, and the committee took their leave without any more definite understanding than the statement on the part of Manager Healy that just as soon as the occasion required and business would justify and demand it, he would add the conductors.

Another meeting of local assembly No. 52 was held last night, at which the committee made its report. After the report had been received a long discussion ensued as to the nature of the next move.

It was finally decided that the committee make another visit today and inform the management of the road that a definite answer one way or the other must be given today, otherwise the line will be tied up.

There is no desire on the part of the motormen to be hasty, or to be any bluffing, but according to their own statement the matter has reached a point where compromise is impossible, and they must have an answer today.

JOHN BARNES WAIVED A HEARING

When He Faced Squire McLane
Yesterday and His Case
Will Now Go

TO COMMON PLEAS COURT

One of Barnes' Friends Says Barnes
Followed Little Frances
Barnes Acting On

THE ADVICE OF AN ATTORNEY

John Barnes came into McLane's court last evening and entered a plea of not guilty, waived an examination and announced he was prepared to furnish bond for his appearance in common pleas court.

As matter now stand it is up to the prosecuting attorney to do as he sees fit. Should he not take sufficient interest in the case to prosecute the same, nothing more will be heard of the matter.

There was quite a stormy time while the arrangement was being made, between Barnes and Constable Miller.

The former called Miller a liar and there would doubtless have been bloodshed had not bystanders interfered.

A friend of Mr. Barnes called at this office today and stated that he, Mr. Barnes, had followed little Frances Barnes upon the advice of an attorney.

EAST END.

AT A LOW EBB.

There is Not a Great Deal of Enthusiasm in the East End Today.

Enthusiasm in the East End as far as foot ball is concerned is at a very low ebb, and the former cranks are willing this morning to discuss almost anything else but foot ball.

The club members, however, took the defeat at the hands of the National Guards very gracefully, and have no fault to find with the manner in which the game was conducted. They say they were beaten and beaten fairly; and that is all there is to it.

It is not likely there will be any great amount of interest in the game in this section of the city, this season at least.

NON-SUIT FOR WANAMAKER

The Plaintiff May Have the Case Taken to the Supreme Court.

Beaver, Pa., Dec. 7.—Judge J. Sharp Wilson overruled his own decision and granted a non-suit in the famous slander case of Thomas Robinson against John Wanamaker. The plaintiff then made a motion that the non-suit be taken off the record, and the court entertained it for argument. It will probably be argued some time next month, and the case then taken to the supreme court.

Pittsburg, Dec. 7.—Former Postmaster General John Wanamaker, ex-Governor Daniel H. Hastings, Judge Gordon and C. H. Bergner arrived in Pittsburg from Beaver and went to the Hotel Lincoln.

Speaking of the outcome of the suit against him for slander Mr. Wanamaker said it was a victory for the free press and free speech, and that it gave the press and political speakers the right to criticize public officers.

Mr. Wanamaker gave out the following for publication:

"The decision of the court is in the interests of the freedom of the newspapers and citizens to fairly discuss public questions involving public officials and the administration of public affairs. The ruling of the distinguished judge decided that free speech in this commonwealth was not to be barred and that actions to succeed if brought into court, must prove malice on the part of the newspapers, that there are privileged statements in politics that are not actionable."

NON-SUIT FOR WANAMAKER

The Plaintiff May Have the Case Taken to the Supreme Court.

Beaver, Pa., Dec. 7.—Judge J. Sharp Wilson overruled his own decision and granted a non-suit in the famous slander case of Thomas Robinson against John Wanamaker. The plaintiff then made a motion that the non-suit be taken off the record, and the court entertained it for argument. It will probably be argued some time next month, and the case then taken to the supreme court.

Pittsburg, Dec. 7.—Former Postmaster General John Wanamaker, ex-Governor Daniel H. Hastings, Judge Gordon and C. H. Bergner arrived in Pittsburg from Beaver and went to the Hotel Lincoln.

Speaking of the outcome of the suit against him for slander Mr. Wanamaker said it was a victory for the free press and free speech, and that it gave the press and political speakers the right to criticize public officers.

Mr. Wanamaker gave out the following for publication:

"The decision of the court is in the interests of the freedom of the newspapers and citizens to fairly discuss public questions involving public officials and the administration of public affairs. The ruling of the distinguished judge decided that free speech in this commonwealth was not to be barred and that actions to succeed if brought into court, must prove malice on the part of the newspapers, that there are privileged statements in politics that are not actionable."

RAILWAY SCHEDULE CHANGED

A Movement on Foot to Get the C.
& P. to Put on
Trains

TO RUN MORNING AND EVENING

Wellsville is up in arms over the proposed change in the Street Railway schedule and will make a determined effort to have the cars run 12 minutes apart instead of 24 minutes apart.

The claim is made that the new schedule will not permit the people
who live in Wellsville and work here
to reach their work on time. Neither do they have any desire to spend a long time waiting for a car to get home after they have completed their work.

It is probable a committee from the Wellsville council will wait on Manager Healy and see if they cannot have the schedule changed.

The movement on the part of the Wellsville residents assumed a new form last night. An effort will be made to have the railroad company
put on trains, starting the first one
at 6 o'clock and making three trips
to this city every morning, the fare
being fixed at five cents. The trains
will also be run in the evening.

The parties back of the movement
are Wellsville's most influential citizens, and they think they can make a go of it.

The trains would stop in this city
and carry passengers to and fro from East End.

It is estimated that at least 300
people reside in Wellsville and work
in this city, and they think their wishes should have been consulted
before the schedule was changed.

The Wellsville people also favor the train idea, on the ground that they will not have to ride for 35 and 40
minutes in the cold.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1900.

THE ARMY CANTEN.

The members of the house did a grandly noble thing in voting the army canteen out. It was a righteous thing to do. It is a step in the right direction. God grant that the nation may take numerous steps along this line, until the partnership existing between this government and the accursed liquor traffic has ceased to exist; until the un-American saloon is banished from our land; until the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks is absolutely prohibited.

THEY ARE ANXIOUS.

There are some parties residing on Third street who are intensely anxious to ascertain the exact point where scarlet women reside on that thoroughfare. The said parties have no legitimate cause for anxiety if they are innocent and honest people. The honest man does not fear the policeman, the detective, nor the law. It is only the thief and the law-breaker and the vile and the openly unclean who have real cause for anxiety, and it is the avowed and expressed purpose of the Good Citizens' League to make the latter class so exceedingly nervous and uncomfortable that they can no longer carry on their nefarious traffic in this community.

WHERE ARE YOU?

Where are you in the oncoming battle in East Liverpool? Are you on the side of Right or of Wrong? Forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. Evil and vice have evidently determined to attempt to rule and dominate in this city. But their advocates have counted without their host. There is a grand citizenship in this pottery center; a class of men and women who are constantly doing good in the Master's name; men and women from every rank in society, engaged in a common cause. This citizenship does not appear strongly on its surface. It makes no boast of deeds performed. It works, works, works, quietly and persistently; intelligently, prayerfully and fearlessly. It has funds at hand when funds are needed. It cares for the worthy poor and needy and gives the cold shoulder to imposters and dead beats. It relieves suffering whenever and wherever suffering exists, among the worthy or the worthless. It loves God and humanity. It makes note of vile dens of vice and places of lawlessness. It makes note of officials who aid and abet crime and who cater to the class which they have sworn to punish and arrest when committing breaches against the law. It makes note of the men and women who claim to be Christians and clean citizens, and who enact a double and damnable part in renting their properties to the very worst classes in the community, for the very worst purposes, simply because a heavier rental will be paid by this class than will be paid by decent men and women. It makes note of cases where the law must be forced to an issue, and goes before our courts in such a powerful and conclusive manner as will brook no denial. And this is the class of citizenship which has pledged itself to do battle to the death against sin and vice and dominant evils of every character in this city. Which class do you belong to? Where will you do duty? There is no neutral ground. You must be for or against. The mandate has gone forth from God himself. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

Juliet Got the Light.

At a small seaport town a star actress of the third magnitude appeared as Juliet.

"I cannot do justice to myself," she said to the manager, "if I do not have a limelight thrown on me when I appear at the balcony."

"We ain't got no limelight, miss, but I think we could get you a ship's blue light," replied the obliging manager, and to this the lady agreed.

The lad who went to the shop to buy the blue light brought back a signal rocket, which was given to him by mistake. The prompter took the rocket in good faith.

Romeo—He jests at scars who never felt a wound.

(Juliet appears. Prompter lights a match.)

"But, soft! What light through yonder window breaks?"

(This was the match lighting the fuse.)

"Arise, fair sun!"

The sun—or rather the rocket—did rise with a terrific hiss. Juliet was knocked off the balcony, the fly borders were set on fire, and the theater was filled with a sulphurous smoke, while the audience, which was fortunately a small one, made a stampede to the doors.

Since then "Romeo and Juliet" has always been looked upon in that town as a dramatic work that could not be witnessed without personal danger.—New World.

Siberian Luxuries.

The three great luxuries in Siberia are churches, theaters and museums. Even the smaller villages can usually be sighted from afar by means of the white walls and the towering, dome shaped cupolas of their churches. These are all amply supplied with bells whose rich tones roll in majestic harmony over distant hill and vale and break the monotony of the peasants' daily toil. Inside these churches are highly ornamented with paintings, and they are presided over by married priests, who take a deep and genuine interest in even the poorest of the flock.

An Amateur Critic.

Here is a schoolboy's criticism of Sir Walter Scott in an examination paper which the New York Commercial Advertiser vouches for: "Walter Scott was a great poet. When he was dyeing, he felt it coming on, so he wrote sum tuching lines which he ment for himself:

"The way was long the wind was cold the minstrel was infernal old.

"Q may we all feel the same wen death catches hold of us."

REVISION OF THE CREED.

Presbyterian Sub-Committee Considers Proposition, Which the Full Committee May Vote on Today.

Washington, Dec. 7.—At the meeting of the committee of 16 ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian church for the purpose of agreeing on some recommendation to be made to the next general assembly on the revision of the confession of faith, five members of the committee, Drs. Samuel J. Nicolls, of St. Louis; Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton University; Justice Harlan, of the supreme court, and Mr. E. W. Humphrey, of Louisville, submitted papers for the consideration of the committee, which will form the basis of action on the subject of revision. These papers in general propose either an actual revision of the confession, or the adoption of an explanatory statement of doctrinal difficulties in the confession, or the formulation of a brief popular statement of the essential doctrines of the confessional system. After mature consideration by the full committee the papers were referred to a sub-committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Van Dyke, Johnson, McKibbin, Parsons and Humphrey, which, after a prolonged meeting last night, decided that the full committee shall vote today on the propositions in the order in which they were submitted.

The report of the committee said Dr. Roberts, the secretary to the committee, probably will secure a decision as to which method of stating the doctrine of the church shall be followed.

W. C. T. U. DELEGATES.

The President and Mrs. McKinley Gave a Reception For Them at the White House.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president and Mrs. McKinley gave a reception to the 1,900 delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention. The elaborate decorations of the principal rooms which had been provided in honor of the commissioners to the Paris exposition, who were the president's guests at a dinner last night, remained in place. The Marine band furnished the music. The receiving party consisted of the president and Mrs. McKinley, Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Secretary and Mrs. Long, Attorney General and Mrs. Griggs and Secretary and Miss Wilson.

CLEARED AND REARRESTED.

Rev. Stuart Discharged at One Trial. Father of Dead Wife Later Charged Him With Murder.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 7.—Rev. L. E. Stuart, the Baptist minister of Wyoming, this county, charged with committing a criminal operation upon his wife, she afterwards dying, was discharged from custody by Judge Woodward in habeas corpus proceedings brought in the accused man's behalf.

C. G. Bumbee, a druggist at Wyoming, testified to selling Mr. Stuart carbolic acid and a syringe on Oct. 31, a few days before Mrs. Stuart died. Dr. J. P. Beckwith said he had attended Mrs. Stuart in her illness and found no trace of a criminal operation.

Dr. L. A. Whitney, who made the post mortem examination, 13 days after her death, testified that to the best of his knowledge no criminal operation had been performed. The woman's mouth and chin were burned with carbolic acid, and the witness said she undoubtedly died from the effects of the poison. She was subject to epilepsy, and in the opinion of the witness it was possible that a feeling of sickness coming on her she took the bottle containing the acid in mistake for another bottle containing medicine that was on a stand near her bed, and the dose was sufficient to cause death.

The district attorney said there was no use calling any more witnesses, as it was not possible to sustain the charge. Judge Woodward then discharged the minister from custody.

Afterwards Mr. Stuart was rearrested on a warrant sworn out by James Harris, father of the minister's wife, who charged him with causing her death by administering carbolic acid.

In order to give them time to bring witnesses from Philadelphia, West Virginia and other places, Magistrate Perkins committed the minister to jail for a hearing next Monday.

ARMY BILL PASSED.

Went Through the House by Vote of 166 to 133.

THE CANTEEN IS PROHIBITED.

W. C. T. U. Delegates Watched the Fight and Applauded the Result—One Republican Voted Against and Three Democrats For Reorganization Measure.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The house of representatives, at the end of a long sitting, passed the army reorganization bill by a vote of 166 to 133. Three Democrats, Messrs. Hall, of Pennsylvania, and Underhill and Clayton, of New York, voted with the Republicans for the bill and Mr. McCall, Republican, of Massachusetts, with the Democrats against it. Otherwise it was a strict party vote.

The proposition, which some of the Democrats attempted to commit their side to in caucus, an extension of the present temporary army until July 1, 1903, which was voted upon indirectly on a motion to recommit, commanded the votes of only about half the opposition and of two Republicans, Mr. McCall and Mr. Mann, of Illinois. Many of the Democrats, however, voted against the motion because they were opposed not only to the reorganization bill, but also to continuing the temporary army at its present strength.

Quite a number of amendments were placed upon the bill before it was passed. The liveliest fight was made upon a substitute offered by Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, for the sale of intoxicants at military posts. It was supported by Messrs. Littlefield, Grosvenor (Reps., O.), Dick (Rep., O.) and Hay (Dem., Va.), and opposed by Messrs. Slayden (Dem., Tex.), Fitzgerald (Dem., Mass.), Pearce (Rep., Mo.), Parker (Rep., N. J.) and Bartholdt (Rep., Mo.). Large delegations from the W. C. T. U., which is in session in this city, watched the fight from the galleries. When the vote was taken the prohibiting amendment was carried by an overwhelming majority, 159 to 51. The W. C. T. U. people applauded the result. Mr. Bartholdt attempted to secure a record vote of the house, but the peculiar parliamentary status shut him out. The sections designed to retire General Shafter as a major general and Generals Fitzhugh Lee and James H. Wilson as brigadier generals were stricken out. Among the amendments adopted were those providing for 50 volunteer surgeons and 150 assistant surgeons for service in the Philippines; for 30 dental surgeons and for a veterinary corps with actual rank. The officers of the pay corps were increased 11 and of the signal corps 23. The age limit was removed from volunteer officers eligible to appointment as first and second lieutenants and the provision for retiring officers who served in the Civil War as of the next higher grade, was stricken out.

The oleomargarine bill, which was postponed, may come up for consideration today.

The Marine band furnished the music. The receiving party consisted of the president and Mrs. McKinley, Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Secretary and Mrs. Long, Attorney General and Mrs. Griggs and Secretary and Miss Wilson.

CLEARED AND REARRESTED.

Rev. Stuart Discharged at One Trial. Father of Dead Wife Later Charged Him With Murder.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 7.—Rev. L. E. Stuart, the Baptist minister of Wyoming, this county, charged with committing a criminal operation upon his wife, she afterwards dying, was discharged from custody by Judge Woodward in habeas corpus proceedings brought in the accused man's behalf.

C. G. Bumblee, a druggist at Wyoming, testified to selling Mr. Stuart carbolic acid and a syringe on Oct. 31, a few days before Mrs. Stuart died. Dr. J. P. Beckwith said he had attended Mrs. Stuart in her illness and found no trace of a criminal operation.

Dr. L. A. Whitney, who made the post mortem examination, 13 days after her death, testified that to the best of his knowledge no criminal operation had been performed. The woman's mouth and chin were burned with carbolic acid, and the witness said she undoubtedly died from the effects of the poison. She was subject to epilepsy, and in the opinion of the witness it was possible that a feeling of sickness coming on her she took the bottle containing the acid in mistake for another bottle containing medicine that was on a stand near her bed, and the dose was sufficient to cause death.

The district attorney said there was no use calling any more witnesses, as it was not possible to sustain the charge. Judge Woodward then discharged the minister from custody.

Afterwards Mr. Stuart was rearrested on a warrant sworn out by James Harris, father of the minister's wife, who charged him with causing her death by administering carbolic acid.

In order to give them time to bring witnesses from Philadelphia, West Virginia and other places, Magistrate Perkins committed the minister to jail for a hearing next Monday.

ARMY BILL PASSED.

Went Through the House by Vote of 166 to 133.

THE CANTEEN IS PROHIBITED.

W. C. T. U. Delegates Watched the Fight and Applauded the Result—One Republican Voted Against and Three Democrats For Reorganization Measure.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The house of representatives, at the end of a long sitting, passed the army reorganization bill by a vote of 166 to 133. Three Democrats, Messrs. Hall, of Pennsylvania, and Underhill and Clayton, of New York, voted with the Republicans for the bill and Mr. McCall, Republican, of Massachusetts, with the Democrats against it. Otherwise it was a strict party vote.

The proposition, which some of the Democrats attempted to commit their side to in caucus, an extension of the present temporary army until July 1, 1903, which was voted upon indirectly on a motion to recommit, commanded the votes of only about half the opposition and of two Republicans, Mr. McCall and Mr. Mann, of Illinois. Many of the Democrats, however, voted against the motion because they were opposed not only to the reorganization bill, but also to continuing the temporary army at its present strength.

Quite a number of amendments were placed upon the bill before it was passed. The liveliest fight was made upon a substitute offered by Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, for the sale of intoxicants at military posts. It was supported by Messrs. Littlefield, Grosvenor (Rep., O.), Dick (Rep., O.) and Hay (Dem., Va.), and opposed by Messrs. Slayden (Dem., Tex.), Fitzgerald (Dem., Mass.), Pearce (Rep., Mo.), Parker (Rep., N. J.) and Bartholdt (Rep., Mo.). Large delegations from the W. C. T. U., which is in session in this city, watched the fight from the galleries. When the vote was taken the prohibiting amendment was carried by an overwhelming majority, 159 to 51. The W. C. T. U. people applauded the result. Mr. Bartholdt attempted to secure a record vote of the house, but the peculiar parliamentary status shut him out. The sections designed to retire General Shafter as a major general and Generals Fitzhugh Lee and James H. Wilson as brigadier generals were stricken out. Among the amendments adopted were those providing for 50 volunteer surgeons and 150 assistant surgeons for service in the Philippines; for 30 dental surgeons and for a veterinary corps with actual rank. The officers of the pay corps were increased 11 and of the signal corps 23. The age limit was removed from volunteer officers eligible to appointment as first and second lieutenants and the provision for retiring officers who served in the Civil War as of the next higher grade, was stricken out. The oleomargarine bill, which was postponed, may come up for consideration today.

Favorable to War Revenue Reduction.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The ways and means committee voted to report the war revenue reduction bill as introduced, with an amendment making the act take effect on its passage, instead of 30 days thereafter. All substitutes and amendments by the minority were defeated, 6 to 9.

Hay-Panncote Treaty Considered.

A POLICEMAN WAS ON DECK

An Indignant Young Woman As-

pool Policeman

SAYS WE MEANT HER HOUSE

A couple of women, one slender and young, the other portly and middle aged, visited the sanctum sanctorum of the News Review yesterday afternoon and desired to know whom we meant by scarlet women on Third street, and wanted that we should locate the house for them. The elder woman asserted that some one had said that we meant her, and she was very indignant at the allegation and determined to visit this office with the thought in her mind of endeavoring to ascertain definitely precisely whom we did mean. She further asserted that she was and is a lady, knows how to conduct herself, and will not willingly permit any one of bad or notorious character to remain in or about her domicile.

We assured her that we did not know her, and that no innocent person was meant in the articles which had appeared in this paper about the said notorious den of death and iniquity on Third street. We further assured her that the said dive does exist on Third street, that the proprietress thereof was vile beyond compare; that she was far more despicable than her whilom visitors or tenants; that we sincerely hoped, in case the law did not reach her at an early date, she would be tarred and feathered and dipped in the muddy Ohio. The elderly woman said that such a creature deserved just such punishment as we thus portrayed. And then the young woman, evidently desirous of being heard, said:

We informed her that we would like very much to know the policeman who had thus made himself sponsor for our thought and meaning, but the young damself failed to gratify our curiosity. We then assured the two visitors that time would fully develop the case in hand, and that we would give full publicity to the house in question, and the denizens thereof, whenever the infamous joint should be pulled, and the elderly woman bade us good day, while the frown upon the face of the younger woman would have caused chills to have wandered down over the spinal column of a sufferer from acute nervousness.

Later in the day a slender young lady, apparently modest and refined, appeared at our office, purchased a paper and said:

"Are you the editor?"

We assured her that we had the honor of answering to that dignified position, when she queried:

"I would like very much to know the location of the house which you speak of as the abode of scarlet women, situated somewhere on Third street. I am now a resident of Third street, and have been rooming there for some time. I believe I am in a house of good repute. I know that there is nothing wrong going on, so far as I can see or know. The landlady is very particular, as she informed me, when renting the room I now occupy, that I would not be permitted to take gentleman visitors to my private apartments. I am very

This latter lady was so deferential and urbane, so extremely pleasant and courteous, that we were sorry indeed that we were compelled to refuse to gratify her curiosity. We assured her, however, that we would endeavor to make the location of the den in question so well known to the public that the brazen inmates would not dare to carry on their nefarious traffic, and would perforce be compelled to seek quarters elsewhere, while the shadow of the law will hang over them like a pall while they remain in this community.

We informed her that we would like very much to know the policeman who had thus made himself sponsor for our thought and meaning, but the young damself failed to gratify our curiosity. We then assured the two visitors that time would fully develop the case in hand, and that we would give full publicity to the house in question, and the denizens thereof, whenever the infamous joint should be pulled, and the elderly woman bade us good day, while the frown upon the face of the younger woman would have caused chills to have wandered down over the spinal column of a sufferer from acute nervousness.

Later in the day a slender young lady, apparently modest and refined, appeared at our office, purchased a paper and said:

"Are you the editor?"

We assured her that we had the honor of answering to that dignified position, when she queried:

"I would like very much to know the location of the house which you speak of as the abode of scarlet women, situated somewhere on Third street. I am now a resident of Third street, and have been rooming there for some time. I believe I am in a house of good repute. I know that there is nothing wrong going on, so far as I can see or know. The landlady is very particular, as she informed me, when renting the room I now occupy, that I would not be permitted to take gentleman visitors to my private apartments. I am very

This latter lady was so deferential and urbane, so extremely pleasant and courteous, that we were sorry indeed that we were compelled to refuse to gratify her curiosity. We assured her, however, that we would endeavor to make the location of the den in question so well known to the public that the brazen inmates would not care to carry on their nefarious traffic, and would perforce be compelled to seek quarters elsewhere, while the shadow of the law will hang over them like a pall while they remain in this community.

CHESTER QUARRELS.

HE HAD A TALKING MATCH WITH THE PEOPLE AT THE BRIDGE.

Fights Were Very Numerous in Chester Yesterday, But Nobody Was Hurt.

About every so often Chester is stirred from center to circumference by fights of all kinds, and this regular period began on Wednesday when two women in the upper part of town had a pitched battle, in which honors were about even.

Yesterday the Pauley family, who keep the toll house, and Thomas Bambrick, came together. The trouble dates back to a time when E. E. Dornan, another clerk in the same grocery in which Bambrick is employed, came over the bridge driving the delivery wagon. On the Chester side of the bridge a young man got on the wagon and this party failed to pay any toll. When Dornan returned the other party was not on the wagon and some inquiry was made as to where the fellow was, as the bridge people had supposed he was a part of the outfit, otherwise he would have been charged his regular toll. Dornan said it was entirely their affair, as he had nothing to do with the fellow; he had gotten on of his own accord and he knew nothing about the affair.

The bridge people were naturally a trifle sore at this and concluded to be more careful in the future.

Accordingly when Bambrick came along later with the same outfit they supposed he was the same man, and the fact that Bambrick did have an assistant with him on this occasion who was not required to pay his way only made matters worse, and he was compelled to pay toll for his man.

It was now Bambrick's turn to get sore, and he was. Yesterday young Pauley and Bambrick came together and a free-for-all fight was only avoided by the interference of friends.

The day following the American Mechanics' social in Chester an ice cream freezer containing some two gallons and a half of the delicacy was placed on a street car by William Allison, who told the motorman and conductor to help themselves. This they did with a vengeance, and not only this, but distributed the stuff with a lavish hand to their friends at the toll house and other points along the line.

Now it transpires that Butcher Bill did not own the ice cream and the employes in taking him at his word made a mistake.

The committee from the Mechanics, who had charge of affairs at the social, were instructed to make an investigation as to what become of the cream, they having contracted with the restaurant man to take back what they did not use, and it had been reported to them that the freezer was empty when he got it.

The committee did as they were instructed and the result of the investigation was that the above facts were brought out. Their next move was to visit the company's office in East Liverpool and inform the officials of the matter. There they were promised that the loss would be made good after the two employes had been confronted and admitted their connection with the affair.

Last night one of the members of the committee got on a car in charge of the two men in question and a lively time ensued. He had no sooner gotten comfortably seated when the motorman accosted him in language more forcible than elegant, demanding that he refrain from circulating the report that they stole the ice cream, as all the small boys on that side of the river were yelling at them. The committeeman would not be bluffed, and for some time it looked as though blood would be spilled, but the motorman could not leave the car and the trip was made without any more serious trouble than a wordy

CHESTER QUARRELS.

HE HAD A TALKING MATCH WITH THE PEOPLE AT THE BRIDGE.

Fights Were Very Numerous in Chester Yesterday, But Nobody Was Hurt.

About every so often Chester is stirred from center to circumference by fights of all kinds, and this regular period began on Wednesday when two women in the upper part of town had a pitched battle, in which honors were about even.

Yesterday the Pauley family, who keep the toll house, and Thomas Bambrick, came together. The trouble dates back to a time when E. E. Dornan, another clerk in the same grocery in which Bambrick is employed, came over the bridge driving the delivery wagon. On the Chester side of the bridge a young man got on the wagon and this party failed to pay any toll. When Dornan returned the other party was not on the wagon and some inquiry was made as to where the fellow was, as the bridge people had supposed he was a part of the outfit, otherwise he would have been charged his regular toll. Dornan said it was entirely their affair, as he had nothing to do with the fellow; he had gotten on of his own accord and he knew nothing about the affair.

The bridge people were naturally a trifle sore at this and concluded to be more careful in the future.

Accordingly when Bambrick came along later with the same outfit they supposed he was the same man, and the fact that Bambrick did have an assistant with him on this occasion who was not required to pay his way only made matters worse, and he was compelled to pay toll for his man.

It was now Bambrick's turn to get sore, and he was. Yesterday young Pauley and Bambrick came together and a free-for-all fight was only avoided by the interference of friends.

The day following the American Mechanics' social in Chester an ice cream freezer containing some two gallons and a half of the delicacy was placed on a street car by William Allison, who told the motorman and conductor to help themselves. This they did with a vengeance, and not only this, but distributed the stuff with a lavish hand to their friends at the toll house and other points along the line.

Now it transpires that Butcher Bill did not own the ice cream and the employes in taking him at his word made a mistake.

The committee from the Mechanics, who had charge of affairs at the social, were instructed to make an investigation as to what become of the cream, they having contracted with the restaurant man to take back what they did not use, and it had been reported to them that the freezer was empty when he got it.

The committee did as they were instructed and the result of the investigation was that the above facts were brought out. Their next move was to visit the company's office in East Liverpool and inform the officials of the matter. There they were promised that the loss would be made good after the two employes had been confronted and admitted their connection with the affair.

Last night one of the members of the committee got on a car in charge of the two men in question and a lively time ensued. He had no sooner gotten comfortably seated when the motorman accosted him in language more forcible than elegant, demanding that he refrain from circulating the report that they stole the ice cream, as all the small boys on that side of the river were yelling at them. The committeeman would not be bluffed, and for some time it looked as though blood would be spilled, but as though blood would be spilled, but the motorman could not leave the car and the trip was made without any more serious trouble than a wordy

CHAMBERLAIN SCORED

Given Fearful Lambasting In Parliament.

EXTREME HATRED WAS SHOWN.

The Colonial Secretary Heard Allegations In Silence For Hours, but Finally Made One Interruption—He Later Made a Denial of the Charges.

London, Dec. 7.—The fifteenth parliament of the reign of Queen Victoria opened, and before the lights went out in the ancient chambers almost every leading politician had spoken.

Such fierce personal animosity and such bitter invectives had scarcely ever before marked proceedings at Westminster.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, was the center of the storm. The policy of the empire regarding South Africa and China, the action of the government in causing a dissolution when it did, the conduct of the war against the Boers, and, in fact, all the questions vitally affecting the empire were gravely discussed and explained, but dominating all was the opposition's hatred of the colonial secretary. From Lord Rosebery's veiled allusions in the house of lords, when he assumed what many took to be the practical leadership of the Liberal party, to the outspoken comment in the house of commons, criticism of Mr. Chamberlain permeated almost every utterance from the Liberal benches.

For hours this target of satire and abuse sat with his head on one side, listening intently, unmoved by groans or cheers. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman shook his notes in Mr. Chamberlain's face and declared that a man who published private letters for political purposes (referring to the Clark-Ellis correspondence) would be excluded from the society of all honorable men and ostracized for life had he resorted to such action as a private individual.

Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, referring to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's suave regrets at the departure of Mr. George J. Goschen and Sir Matthew White Ridley from the front bench, said he believed that Sir Henry was so generous that he would even find good even in Mr. Chamberlain, should the latter be removed to another sphere. A Liberal shouted, "We draw the line somewhere," and both sides of the house roared with laughter.

Once Mr. Chamberlain interrupted and leaped to his feet. A thrill went through the house. "It is not so," he declared, and proceeded to deny the allegation that he had said that any seat lost to the government during the recent election was one sold to the Boers.

Later he rose to reply to the avalanche of attack launched against him. How great a strain he had undergone was evident in the scarcely suppressed excitement of tone in one rarely known to show feeling in the house.

He denied he had ever accused Mr. Ellis of being a traitor. He denied also that he had denied any accusations against his own personal integrity. He declared that the special purpose of the meeting of parliament had been forgotten in an attack upon himself. Irritated beyond control by frequent interruptions and disturbances, he called one of the Liberals, amid the excitement, a "cad."

The speaker called him to order and Mr. Chamberlain withdrew the epithet, apologizing for its use.

After defending the publication of the Ellis correspondence he was cut off by the midnight adjournment.

A Number of Stocks Gained Near a Point, but Movement Was Apparent in One of Special Stocks.

New York, Dec. 7.—A determined effort was manifest in the stock market Thursday to attract a renewal of speculation for a rise.

Quite a number of important stocks achieved gains of near a point, but a careful scrutiny of the market showed that the movement all day was distinctly one of special stocks. The low-priced, non-dividend paying railroad stocks were the favorites, especially the Erie and the Wabash issues, both stocks and bonds. Nothing authoritative could be learned to explain this movement, which rumor attributed both to buying for Vanderbilt control and to joint plans for consolidation and through traffic arrangements for the two lines. The rise extended to over two points in Erie first preferred, and to 2½ in the second preferred, and both closed at about the top, being practically the only stocks in the lists to do so. Besides these stocks there were upwards of 30 stocks selling under 40, which were advanced from a half to 1½ per cent. St. Joe and Grand Island first preferred jumped five points on prospects of a dividend increase. The Green Bay and Western issues were strong, though the principal activity was in the debenture Bs. Sugar was active and feverish all day, and apparently the traders were seeking to retrieve their losses on the bull side by a bear campaign. They circulated a report of the serious illness of the president of the company, which was denied. The stock fell an extreme 3½ and closed only slightly better at a net loss of 2¼. Tennessee Coal was even more acutely affected and fell altogether 5½ to 6½, closing at the lowest with a loss of 4¼ on the day. The report was confidently disseminated that it had been determined to pass the next dividend on the stock. The increase in the dividend rate for the half year on Denver and Rio Grande preferred from 2 to 2½ per cent caused a late advance in that stock of 1½ and in the common stock of 1¼. This caused a sympathetic hardening in the market, but prices did not hold in face of the renewed weakness in the specialties. There was no appreciable change in money market conditions.

The bond market was active and consistently strong, many low grade junior and contingent interest bonds advancing strongly. Total sales, par value, $6,425,000.

United States new 4s declined 5½ per cent on the last call.

Sugar was active and feverish all day, and apparently the traders were seeking to retrieve their losses on the bull side by a bear campaign. They circulated a report of the serious illness of the president of the company, which was denied. The stock fell an extreme 3½, and closed only slightly better at a net loss of 2¼. Tennessee Coal was even more acutely affected and fell altogether 5½ to 6½, closing at the lowest with a loss of 4¼ on the day. The report was confidently disseminated that it had been determined to pass the next dividend on the stock. The increase in the dividend rate for the half year on Denver and Rio Grande preferred from 2 to 2½ per cent caused a late advance in that stock of 1½, and in the common stock of 1¼. This caused a sympathetic hardening in the market, but prices did not hold in face of the renewed weakness in the specialties. There was no appreciable change in money market conditions.

The bond market was active and consistently strong, many low grade junior and contingent interest bonds advancing strongly. Total sales, par value, $6,425,000.

United States new 4s declined ½ per cent on the last call.

LADY LABOR DELEGATES.

Three at American Federation Convention—Representatives From Great Britain and Canada.

Louisville, Dec. 7.—Prominent among the delegates at the American Federation of Labor are the three women representatives—Miss Sarah Grehans, of Strator, Ill.; Mrs. Emma Lanphere, of Galesburg, Ill., and Miss Ellen King, of Petersburg, Ind. Each represents a labor organization.

Among those on the stage were Samuel Weir, the delegate from Scotland, and Peter Curran, representing the British trades union congress.

There are two protests against the seating of delegates, the first by the National Brewers' union, filed against the Stationary Firemen and Engineers' Brotherhood, and by the United Garment Makers' union against the Chicago Central Labor Union. The protests are on questions of jurisdiction. Evidence will be heard by the committee on credentials and a report made to the convention.

Treasurer John B. Lennon read his report, which was referred to the proper committee.

The chair appointed committees on rules and order of business, president's report, executive council's report, treasurer's report, resolutions, laws, organization, labels, boycotts, grievances and local and federated bodies.

Some time was devoted to the presentation and reference to the proper committees of resolutions and the report of the committee on rules.

There were also delegates from Canada; also two colored delegates.

During the session President Gompers read his annual address. Among other things he declared opposition to compulsory arbitration. On strikes he said in part:

"It is our aim to avoid strikes; but I trust that the day will never come when the workers of our country will have so far lost their manhood and independence to refuse to strike regardless of the provocation, or to surrender their right to strike. We seek to prevent strikes, but we realize that the best means by which they can be averted is to be the better prepared for them."

At another point he said in part:

"There were issued during the year from national and international unions and the American Federation of Labor (direct) charters to the following: Newly formed unions, 3,377; charters surrendered or unions disbanded, 348, leaving a net increase of local unions for the year of 3,027." Secretary Frank Morrison presented his report to the convention.

GENERAL EGAN RETIRED.

Colonel Weston Will Soon Be Promoted to Be Head of the Commissary Department.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president closed the unsavory Egan-Miles episode by restoring General Charles P. Egan, the suspended commissary general, to the active list and immediately retiring him under authority of the law permitting the retirement of officers after 30 years of active service. Egan was practically forced on the retired list under threat that if he did not retire now the president would see to it that, when the time came for his restoration to active service, he should be held off until after the arrival of the time for his retirement on account of age.

An officer under sentence of suspension cannot be retired, hence the effectiveness of this argument. By going on the list now, Egan loses one-fourth of his pay of $5,500 for four years, the remainder of the time he was to have remained suspended.

The pressure brought on Egan was not for the purpose of punishing him still further for the offense against General Miles, but for the purpose of correcting a flagrant injustice to Colonel "Jack" Weston, the acting commissary general, who has been doing the work of a brigadier general for the pay of a colonel, who will, it is expected, be promoted to the place.

Weston would have retired before Egan's suspension came to an end, so there was double reason for forcing Egan out. Colonel Weston's appointment to be commissary general will be made in a few days.

The term gardener implied much more a few generations ago than it does today. Young men paid heavy premiums to get in as apprentices under learned gardeners, and when at the end of the term they were invested with the "blue apron" most of them would compare favorably in general intelligence with the graduates of our modern universities.

LADY LABOR DELEGATES.

Three at American Federation Convention—Representatives From Great Britain and Canada.

Louisville, Dec. 7.—Prominent among the delegates at the American Federation of Labor are the three women representatives—Miss Sarah Grebans, of Strator, Ill.; Mrs. Emma Lamphere, of Galesburg, Ill., and Miss Ellen King, of Petersburg, Ind. Each represents a labor organization.

Among those on the stage were Samuel Weir, the delegate from Scotland, and Peter Curran, representing the British trades union congress.

There are two protests against the seating of delegates, the first by the National Brewers' union, filed against the Stationary Firemen and Engineers' Brotherhood, and by the United Garment Makers' union against the Chicago Central Labor Union. The protests are on questions of jurisdiction. Evidence will be heard by the committee on credentials and a report made to the convention.

Treasurer John B. Lennon read his report, which was referred to the proper committee.

The chair appointed committees on rules and order of business, president's report, executive council's report, treasurer's report, resolutions, laws, organization, labels, boycotts, grievances and local and federated bodies.

Some time was devoted to the presentation and reference to the proper committees of resolutions and the report of the committee on rules.

There were also delegates from Canada; also two colored delegates.

During the session President Gompers read his annual address. Among other things he declared opposition to compulsory arbitration. On strikes he said in part:

"It is our aim to avoid strikes; but I trust that the day will never come when the workers of our country will have so far lost their manhood and independence to refuse to strike regardless of the provocation, or to surrender their right to strike. We seek to prevent strikes, but we realize that the best means by which they can be averted is to be the better prepared for them."

At another point he said in part: "There were issued, during the year from national and international unions and the American Federation of Labor (direct) charters to the following: Newly formed unions, 3,375; charters surrendered or unions disbanded, 348, leaving a net increase of local unions for the year of 3,027." Secretary Frank Morrison presented his report to the convention.

GENERAL EGAN RETIRED.

Colonel Weston Will Soon Be Promoted to Be Head of the Commissary Department.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president closed the unsavory Egan-Miles episode by restoring General Charles P. Egan, the suspended commissary general, to the active list and immediately retiring him under authority of the law permitting the retirement of officers after 30 years of active service. Egan was practically forced on the retired list under threat that if he did not retire now the president would see to it that, when the time came for his restoration to active service, he should be held off until after the arrival of the time for his retirement on account of age.

An officer under sentence of suspension cannot be retired, hence the effectiveness of this argument. By going on the list now, Egan loses one-fourth of his pay of $5,500 for four years, the remainder of the time he was to have remained suspended.

The pressure brought on Egan was not for the purpose of punishing him still further for the offense against General Miles, but for the purpose of correcting a flagrant injustice to Colonel "Jack" Weston, the acting commissary general, who has been doing the work of a brigadier general for the pay of a colonel, who will, it is expected, be promoted to the place.

Weston would have retired before Egan's suspension came to an end, so there was double reason for forcing Egan out. Colonel Weston's appointment to be commissary general will be made in a few days.

The term gardener implied much more a few generations ago than it does today. Young men paid heavy premiums to get in as apprentices under learned gardeners, and when at the end of the term they were invested with the "blue apron" most of them would compare favorably in general intelligence with the graduates of our modern universities.

The National Guard foot ball eleven yesterday afternoon demonstrated to the satisfaction of every person present their superiority over the Royal Tiger eleven of East End.

There are some sad hearts in East End today and the Royal Tigers are just shy $100, while their rooters are shy several dollars more, as there was more money wagered on the game than was ever wagered on a like contest played in the city.

The game played by the National Guards was undoubtedly the most scientific and best played game of foot ball ever witnessed in the city, and there was not a man on their team who did not do his part, and do it well. They did not make a fumble during the whole game, and knew the signals perfectly. They are altogether too much for the Royal Tigers, and are undoubtedly the best eleven that ever represented the city.

They outplayed the Tigers at every point and the game was never in doubt from the start, although two disastrous fumbles gave the Guards their touchdowns.

Pokey Little, Dennis McCarron, Billy Humble and Prof. Armour were the stars of the game, although Williams played fullback until Prof. Armour arrived, and he did it well; his punting lending largely to the success of the Guards.

The Tigers kicked off and after the Guards had been held for two downs, Williams punted and it went out of bounds. It bounced back in and Little gathered it up and went over the line for a touchdown. It was not allowed by Referee Van Cleve, and the ball was brought back and given to the Tigers.

The Tigers were held for two downs and then made a mistake in signals and the ball went to the Guards on downs.

Cooley went around the end for a gain of 20 yards. They were held for two downs and then Williams punted, Hendricks fumbled the ball and Godwin carried it to the 5-yard line before he was downed. McCarron then made 3 yards and the next time was shoved over the line for a touchdown, just 8 minutes after the game had been started. He kicked goal, making the score 6 to 0.

The Tigers kicked off and Schilling got the ball and carried it back a few yards before he was downed. Mc-Carron made 2½ yards, Cooley went around the end for 25 yards, McCarron made 7 yards, Cooley made 4 more and the Guards lost the pigskin on downs.

The Tigers took a brace and Wheatley hit the center for 6 yards, Orr made 2½ yards, Wheatley gained 5 more, McLane made 2½. Wheatley made another yard, McLane made 15, Wheatley went 3, McLane made 5 more and Orr gained 7. Little tackled Wheatley for a loss of 4 yards,
and the Tigers lost the ball on downs.

The Guards were held and then Williams kicked. The Tigers fumbled, and as usual Little was on the scene of action and made a gain of 25 yards on the fumble.

At this juncture Prof. Armour got in the game and Williams retired.

McCarron made 4 yards, Armour gained 15, McCarron went 12 yards, Cooley gained 3, Armour went 4, a trick play netted 4 more and another trick play gained 15 yards and time was called on the first half with the ball on the Tigers 10-yard line.

The Guards kicked off to the Tigers' 10-yard line and Wheatley got the ball and carried it back 20 yards before he was downed. Nagel in three downs gained 9 yards, then McLane fumbled and Edie and Armour fell on the ball, the Tigers losing 15 yards on the play.

Armour gained 2 yards and McCarron went 5, Armour got another 1½ yards and McCarron went 3; Cooley gained two and Armour was tackled with no gain, Armour went 2 yards, McCarron made 3 yards in two downs
and Armour was tackled for no gain.
A try was made at field goal, but Armour missed, and the Tigers got the ball on their own 5-yard line.
Nagel was tackled for a loss of one-half yard and then Stevenson fumbled. Little was the hero once more and fell on the ball for the second touchdown of the game. McCarron missed goal, making the score 11
to 0.

The Tigers kicked off to the Guards' 5-yard line and Armour carried the ball back for 17 yards before he was tackled. McCarron in three downs made 5½ yards, Cooley gained 2, Mc-Carron went 2½, Armour went 2, York went 9, McCarron and Cooley each made 2, McCarron and Armour made 6 more, York went 3, Little gained 4, McCarron went 2, Cooley gained 2,
McCarron made three, Armour made 2, Humble went 3, Cooley was tackled for a loss of five yards, but McCarron made 7. The ball was now on the 25-yard line and with 1½ minutes to play. Armour made a good try for field goal, but missed it, and the ball was downed by the Tigers just as time was called.

Had the game continued the ball would have been brought out to the 25-yard line and the Tigers would have kicked off.

The lineup:
Guards—11. Tigers—0.
Godwin Left end Nagle
Schilling Left tackle Howard
Edie Left guard Goodballet
Bucher Center Searight
York Right guard Ward
Humble Right tackle O'Malley
Little Right end Orr
Woods Quarterback Stevenson
McCarron Right half Hendricks
Cooley Left half McLane
Williams and Armour Fullback Wheatley
Touchdowns. McCarron, Little;
goals, McCarron.

Officials—Referee, John Van Cleve, Sewickley; umpire, Dave Moore, Lisbon; linemen, Clinton, East Liverpool; Curry, Lisbon; timekeepers, Dr. R. J. Marshall and Attorney R. G.
Travis.

Notes.
The Guards showed what good systematic practice will do with a foot ball eleven.

Prof. Armour was a tower of strength to the Guards and after he arrived the game was cinched.

The Tigers played hard, but they were never in the game, although Mc-Lane worked hard to stem the tide and did more than any other man to keep the score down.

Pokey Little is one of the best foot ball players the town ever saw, and the team that secures his services gets a good man.

Referee Van Cleve and Umpire
Moore did their work well and there was not a kick of any importance made during the game.

The field was roped off and not a spectator was allowed on the gridiron, something new in foot ball in this city, and a very good feature.

The Tigers had the weight, but the Guards had the science.

It was one of the cleanest games
ever played in the city.

Referee Van Cleve received $25 for his work, and he was worth it.

Woods is a good quarterback and makes no fumbles.

Nagle had his nose skinned and Wheatley got a sore eye.

MOTORMEN MADE A FORMAL DEMAND

They Asked Manager Healy For
Conductors and Said They Must Be

GIVEN A DEFINITE ANSWER

Some Conclusion Must Be Reached
Soon or the Street Rail-
way Men

MAY TIE UP THE WHOLE LINE

A committee consisting of Motor-men Lawrence Allison, Kerr and Davis waited upon the manager of the East Liverpool street railway yesterday, as had been arranged at Tuesday night's meeting, and announced exclusively in yesterday's News Review, and a formal request was made that conductors be placed upon the line.

The proposition is that conductors be put on to run from the Mulberry street switch, East End, to the Tenth street switch, Wellsville, and that they remain on duty day and night.
The motormen desire to do away entirely with the fare box system, and while the conference was very harmonious, no definite reply was given the committee.

The disposition of the manager was to evade the issue, however, and the committee took their leave without any more definite understanding than the statement on the part of Manager Healy that just as soon as the occasion required and business would justify and demand it, he would add the conductors.

Another meeting of local assembly
No. 52 was held last night, at which the committee made its report. After the report had been received a long discussion ensued as to the nature of the next move.

It was finally decided that the committee make another visit today and inform the management of the road that a definite answer one way or the other must be given today, otherwise the line will be tied up.

There is no desire on the part of the motormen to be hasty, or to be any bluffing, but according to their own statement the matter has reached a point where compromise is impossible, and they must have an answer today.

JOHN BARNES WAIVED A HEARING

When He Faced Squire McLane
Yesterday and His Case
Will Now Go

TO COMMON PLEAS COURT

One of Barnes' Friends Says Barnes
Followed Little Frances
Barnes Acting On

THE ADVICE OF AN ATTORNEY

John Barnes came into McLane's court last evening and entered a plea of not guilty, waived an examination and announced he was prepared to furnish bond for his appearance in common pleas court.

As matter now stand it is up to the prosecuting attorney to do as he sees fit. Should he not take sufficient interest in the case to prosecute the same, nothing more will be heard of the matter.

There was quite a stormy time while the arrangement was being made, between Barnes and Constable Miller.

The former called Miller a liar and there would doubtless have been bloodshed had not bystanders interfered.

A friend of Mr. Barnes called at this office today and stated that he,
Mr. Barnes, had followed little Frances Barnes upon the advice of an attorney.

EAST END.

AT A LOW EBB.

There is Not a Great Deal of Enthusiasm in the East End Today.

Enthusiasm in the East End as far as foot ball is concerned is at a very low ebb, and the former cranks are willing this morning to discuss almost anything else but foot ball.

The club members, however, took the defeat at the hands of the National Guards very gracefully, and have no fault to find with the manner in which the game was conducted. They say they were beaten and beaten fairly; and that is all there is to it.

It is not likely there will be any great amount of interest in the game in this section of the city, this season at least.

Funeral of Frank Allison.

The funeral of Frank I. Allison took place from the family residence on Ohio avenue at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the services being conducted by Dr. Taggart and Rev. Greene.

The funeral was well attended, a large number of kilnmen being in attendance.

Interment was made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Abandoned Gas.

A large number of East End residents have abandoned gas, owing to the shortage and are now using coal. Quite a few families have not had a cooked meal since last Monday.

Miss Lizzie Stamm, of Mulberry street, who has been suffering for several days with diphtheria, is much improved and is now out of danger.

Repairs Being Made.

The work of repairing the shaft at the flint mill is progressing rapidly, and will be completed some time next week.

William Baird is Better.

William Baird, who has been ill for several days, has almost entirely recovered.

EXPLANATORY.

Mr. Henry Reark Has No Desire to Take Part in "Processions."

Mr. Henry Reark informs us that he did not form part of the "procession" en route from the Barnes residence to the city hall the other evening, when Mr. Barnes was arrested. Mr. Reark states that he was summoned to the Barnes residence by Mrs. Barnes, responded as a neighbor, locked the doors and held the key of the Barnes residence until called for by them. Only this and nothing more. Mr. Reark has no use for "processions." He states that he afterward, by request of Mrs. Barnes, gave ball for the appearance of Mr. Barnes at Esquire McLane's court, Saturday, Dec. 8, at 1 p. m.

NON-SUIT FOR WANAMAKER

The Plaintiff May Have the Case Taken to the Supreme Court.

Beaver, Pa., Dec. 7.—Judge J. Sharp Wilson overruled his own decision and granted a non-suit in the famous slander case of Thomas Robinson against John Wanamaker. The plaintiff then made a motion that the non-suit be taken off the record, and the court entertained it for argument. It will probably be argued some time next month, and the case then taken to the supreme court.

Pittsburg, Dec. 7.—Former Postmaster General John Wanamaker, ex-Governor Daniel H. Hastings, Judge Gordon and C. H. Bergner arrived in Pittsburg from Beaver and went to the Hotel Lincoln.

Speaking of the outcome of the suit against him for slander Mr. Wanamaker said it was a victory for the free press and free speech, and that it gave the press and political speakers the right to criticize public officers.

Mr. Wanamaker gave out the following for publication:

"The decision of the court is in the interests of the freedom of the newspapers and citizens to fairly discuss public questions involving public officials and the administration of public affairs. The ruling of the distinguished judge decided that free speech in this commonwealth was not to be barred and that actions to succeed if brought into court, must prove malice on the part of the newspapers, that there are privileged statements in politics that are not actionable."

WELLSVILLE IS OUT IN THE COLD

The Citizens Don't Propose to Stay
There Long and Want New Street

RAILWAY SCHEDULE CHANGED

A Movement on Foot to Get the C.
& P. to Put on
Trains

TO RUN MORNING AND EVENING

Wellsville is up in arms over the
proposed change in the Street Railway schedule and will make a determined effort to have the cars run
12 minutes apart instead of 24 minutes apart.

The claim is made that the new
schedule will not permit the people
who live in Wellsville and work here
to reach their work on time. Neither
do they have any desire to spend a long time waiting for a car to get home after they have completed their
work.

It is probable a committee from
the Wellsville council will wait on Manager Healy and see if they can-
not have the schedule changed.

The movement on the part of the Wellsville residents assumed a new form last night. An effort will be made to have the railroad company
put on trains, starting the first one
at 6 o'clock and making three trips
to this city every morning, the fare
being fixed at five cents. The trains
will also be run in the evening.

The parties back of the movement
are Wellsville's most influential citizens, and they think they can make a
go of it.

The trains would stop in this city
and carry passengers to and fro from East End.

It is estimated that at least 300
people reside in Wellsville and work
in this city, and they think their
wishes should have been consulted
before the schedule was changed.

The Wellsville people also favor the
train idea, on the ground that they will not have to ride for 35 and 40
minutes in the cold.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1900.

THE ARMY CANTEN.

The members of the house did a grandly noble thing in voting the army canteen out. It was a righteous thing to do. It is a step in the right direction. God grant that the nation may take numerous steps along this line, until the partnership existing between this government and the accursed liquor traffic has ceased to exist; until the un-American saloon is banished from our land; until the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks is absolutely prohibited.

THEY ARE ANXIOUS.

There are some parties residing on Third street who are intensely anxious to ascertain the exact point where scarlet women reside on that thoroughfare. The said parties have no legitimate cause for anxiety if they are innocent and honest people. The honest man does not fear the policeman, the detective, nor the law. It is only the thief and the law-breaker and the vile and the openly unclean who have real cause for anxiety, and it is the avowed and expressed purpose of the Good Citizens' League to make the latter class so exceedingly nervous and uncomfortable that they can no longer carry on their nefarious traffic in this community.

WHERE ARE YOU?

Where are you in the oncoming battle in East Liverpool? Are you on the side of Right or of Wrong? Forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. Evil and vice have evidently determined to attempt to rule and dominate in this city. But their advocates have counted without their host. There is a grand citizenship in this pottery center; a class of men and women who are constantly doing good in the Master's name; men and women from every rank in society, engaged in a common cause. This citizenship does not appear strongly on its surface. It makes no boast of deeds performed. It works, works, works, quietly and persistently; intelligently, prayerfully and fearlessly. It has funds at hand when funds are needed. It cares for the worthy poor and needy and gives the cold shoulder to imposters and dead beats. It relieves suffering whenever and wherever suffering exists, among the worthy or the worthless. It loves God and humanity. It makes note of vile dens of vice and places of lawlessness. It makes note of officials who aid and abet crime and who cater to the class which they have sworn to punish and arrest when committing breaches against the law. It makes note of the men and women who claim to be Christians and clean citizens, and who enact a double and damnable part in renting their properties to the very worst classes in the community, for the very worst purposes, simply because a heavier rental will be paid by this class than will be paid by decent men and women. It makes note of cases where the law must be forced to an issue, and goes before our courts in such a powerful and conclusive manner as will brook no denial. And this is the class of citizenship which has pledged itself to do battle to the death against sin and vice and dominant evils of every character in this city. Which class do you belong to? Where will you do duty? There is no neutral ground. You must be for or against. The mandate has gone forth from God himself. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

Messrs. A. G. Mason and G. W. Thomas, of East Liverpool, were here today in conference with Messrs. J. L. and Dwight Henderson and J. W. Fawcett, of Youngstown, who represented the Erie railroad, and K. E. Baringer, of the Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western railroad.

The conference was for the purpose of finding out what the companies would do for them in the matter of laying switches to the pottery plant on whatever site they may select.

Both companies agree to lay switches for them free of any charge. The site will not be selected for a few days yet, as an outline of the two sites must be made and the levels taken.

Juliet Got the Light.

At a small seaport town a star actress of the third magnitude appeared as Juliet.

"I cannot do justice to myself," she said to the manager. "If I do not have a limelight thrown on me when I appear at the balcony."

"We ain't got no limelight, miss, but I think we could get you a ship's blue light," replied the obliging manager, and to this the lady agreed.

The lad who went to the shop to buy the blue light brought back a signal rocket, which was given to him by mistake. The prompter took the rocket in good faith.

Romeo—He jests at scars who never felt a wound.

(Juliet appears. Prompter lights a match.)

"But, soft! What light through yonder window breaks?"

(This was the match lighting the fuse.)

"Arise, fair sun!"

The sun—or rather the rocket—did rise with a terrific hiss. Juliet was knocked off the balcony, the fly borders were set on fire, and the theater was filled with a sulphurous smoke, while the audience, which was fortunately a small one, made a stampede to the doors.

Since then "Romeo and Juliet" has always been looked upon in that town as a dramatic work that could not be witnessed without personal danger.—New World.

Siberian Luxuries.

The three great luxuries in Siberia are churches, theaters and museums. Even the smaller villages can usually be sighted from afar by means of the white walls and the towering, dome shaped cupolas of their churches. These are all amply supplied with bells whose rich tones roll in majestic harmony over distant hill and vale and break the monotony of the peasants' daily toil. Inside these churches are highly ornamented with paintings, and they are presided over by married priests, who take a deep and genuine interest in even the poorest of the flock.

An Amateur Critic.

Here is a schoolboy's criticism of Sir Walter Scott in an examination paper which the New York Commercial Advertiser vouches for: "Walter Scott was a great poet. When he was dying, he felt it coming on, so he wrote sum tuching lines which he ment for himself:

"The way was long the wind was cold the minstrel was infernal old.

"Q may we all feel the same wen death catches hold of us."

THANKED PROVIDENCE

W. C. T. U. Grateful For Exclusion of Roberts.

PURITY IN MEN IS DEMANDED.

Convention Declares For the Judging of Them by the Same Standard as Women, Sympathy Expressed For 8-Hour-Day, Exclusion of Child Labor, &c.

Washington, Dec. 7.—A feature of the W. C. T. U. convention was the memorial services in memory of members who had died during the year. It was conducted by Mrs. Stevens. Considerable miscellaneous business was then transacted. A message of sympathy was sent to Miss Clara Barton, of the Red Cross, who has been too ill to appear before the convention; a resolution was adopted congratulating the National Prohibition party on its increased vote at the recent election and expressing appreciation of the sacrifice of the presidential and vice presidential candidates of that party in standing for the principles of prohibition at the polls. Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, vice president of the Catholic Total Abstinence association of America, was introduced and extended greetings.

The convention adopted resolutions pledging renewed loyalty to the W. C. T. U., acknowledging the guiding hand of God in its work, thanking him for the victory in the exclusion of Brigham H. Roberts from the house of representatives, favoring the total suppression of the liquor traffic, opposing the army canteen, urging the enfranchisement of women, expressing sympathy with organized labor in its just demands for a living wage, an eight-hour day, the prohibition of child labor, and in all wise efforts for justice and freedom; urging adoption of laws to secure purity in man as well as women, and protesting against the government regulating vice in any form in the Philippines instead of suppressing it.

The old officers were re-elected as follows:

President—Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens.
Vice president at large—Anna A. Gordon.
Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Susan M. D. Fry.
Recording secretary—Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman.
Assistant recording secretary—Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp.
Treasurer—Mrs. Helen M. Barker.

REVISION OF THE CREED.

Presbyterian Sub-Committee Considers Proposition, Which the Full Committee May Vote on Today.

Washington, Dec. 7.—At the meeting of the committee of 16 ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian church for the purpose of agreeing on some recommendation to be made to the next general assembly on the revision of the confession of faith, five members of the committee, Drs. Samuel J. Nicolls, of St. Louis; Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton University; Justice Harlan, of the supreme court, and Mr. E. W. Humphrey, of Louisville, submitted papers for the consideration of the committee which will form the basis of action on the subject of revision. These papers in general propose either an actual revision of the confession, or the adoption of an explanatory statement of doctrinal difficulties in the confession, or the formulation of a brief popular statement of the essential doctrines of the confessional system. After mature consideration by the full committee the papers were referred to a sub-committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Van Dyke, Johnson, McKibbin, Parsons and Humphrey, which, after a prolonged meeting last night, decided that the full committee shall vote today on the propositions in the order in which they were submitted.

The report of the committee said Dr. Roberts, the secretary to the committee, probably will secure a decision as to which method of stating the doctrine of the church shall be followed.

W. C. T. U. DELEGATES.

The President and Mrs. McKinley Gave a Reception For Them at the White House.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president and Mrs. McKinley gave a reception to the 1,900 delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention. The elaborate decorations of the principal rooms which had been provided in honor of the commissioners to the Paris exposition, who were the president's guests at a dinner last night, remained in place. The Marine band furnished the music. The receiving party consisted of the president and Mrs. McKinley, Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Secretary and Mrs. Long, Attorney General and Mrs. Griggs and Secretary and Miss Wilson.

CLEARED AND REARRESTED.

Rev. Stuart Discharged at One Trial. Father of Dead Wife Later Charged Him With Murder.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 7.—Rev. L. E. Stuart, the Baptist minister of Wyoming, this county, charged with committing a criminal operation upon his wife, she afterwards dying, was discharged from custody by Judge Woodward in habeas corpus proceedings brought in the accused man's behalf.

C. G. Bumbee, a druggist at Wyoming, testified to selling Mr. Stuart carbolic acid and a syringe on Oct. 31, a few days before Mrs. Stuart died. Dr. J. P. Beckwith said he had attended Mrs. Stuart in her illness and found no trace of a criminal operation.

Dr. L. A. Whitney, who made the post mortem examination, 13 days after her death, testified that to the best of his knowledge no criminal operation had been performed. The woman's mouth and chin were burned with carbolic acid, and the witness said she undoubtedly died from the effects of the poison. She was subject to epilepsy, and in the opinion of the witness it was possible that a feeling of sickness coming on her she took the bottle containing the acid in mistake for another bottle containing medicine that was on a stand near her bed, and the dose was sufficient to cause death.

The district attorney said there was no use calling any more witnesses, as it was not possible to sustain the charge. Judge Woodward then discharged the minister from custody.

Afterwards Mr. Stuart was rearrested on a warrant sworn out by James Harris, father of the minister's wife, who charged him with causing her death by administering carbolic acid.

In order to give them time to bring witnesses from Philadelphia, West Virginia and other places, Magistrate Perkins committed the minister to jail for a hearing next Monday.

THE VACANCY DUE TO DEATH.

Charles A. Towne Accepts Senatorship Formerly Held by Late C. K. Davis.

St. Paul, Dec. 7.—Former Congressman Charles A. Towne, Silver Republican, of Duluth, called on Governor Lind. He then formally accepted the appointment to the United States senate for the vacancy caused by the death of Cushman K. Davis, received his commission immediately, and will leave as soon as possible for Washington to take the seat which he will hold until the legislature, which the Republicans control, elects a senator to the place.

Re-Cleared; Sloan Condemned.

London, Dec. 7.—The Racing Calendar announced that Lester Reiff, the American jockey, has been exonerated of the charge of pulling Mr. Richard Croker's horse, The Scotchman II., at Doncaster. Tod Sloan, it is added, has been informed that he need not apply for a license for next season.

Twentieth Century Baptist Memorial.

Denver, Dec. 7.—At the session of the national conference of the American Baptist Home Mission society the twentieth century memorial regarding the duties and responsibilities of Baptists, adopted in New York, Nov. 20, was adopted.

ARMY BILL PASSED.

Went Through the House by Vote of 166 to 133.

THE CANTEEN IS PROHIBITED.

W. C. T. U. Delegates Watched the Fight and Applauded the Result—One Republican Voted Against and Three Democrats For Reorganization Measure.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The house of representatives, at the end of a long sitting, passed the army reorganization bill by a vote of 166 to 133. Three Democrats, Messrs. Hall, of Pennsylvania, and Underhill and Clayton, of New York, voted with the Republicans for the bill and Mr. McCall, Republican, of Massachusetts, with the Democrats against it. Otherwise it was a strict party vote.

The proposition, which some of the Democrats attempted to commit their side to in caucus, an extension of the present temporary army until July 1, 1903, which was voted upon indirectly on a motion to recommit, commanded the votes of only about half the opposition and of two Republicans, Mr. McCall and Mr. Mann, of Illinois. Many of the Democrats, however, voted against the motion because they were opposed not only to the reorganization bill, but also to continuing the temporary army at its present strength.

Quite a number of amendments were placed upon the bill before it was passed. The liveliest fight was made upon a substitute offered by Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, for the sale of intoxicants at military posts. It was supported by Messrs. Littlefield, Grosvenor (Reps., O.), Dick (Rep., O.) and Hay (Dem., Va.), and opposed by Messrs. Slayden (Dem., Tex.), Fitzgerald (Dem., Mass.), Pearce (Rep., Mo.), Parker (Rep., N. J.) and Bartholdt (Rep., Mo.). Large delegations from the W. C. T. U., which is in session in this city, watched the fight from the galleries. When the vote was taken the prohibiting amendment was carried by an overwhelming majority, 159 to 51. The W. C. T. U. people applauded the result. Mr. Bartholdt attempted to secure a record vote of the house, but the peculiar parliamentary status shut him out. The sections designed to retire General Shafter as a major general and Generals Fitzhugh Lee and James H. Wilson as brigadier generals were stricken out. Among the amendments adopted were those providing for 50 volunteer surgeons and 150 assistant surgeons for service in the Philippines; for 30 dental surgeons and for a veterinary corps with actual rank. The officers of the pay corps were increased 11 and of the signal corps 23. The age limit was removed from volunteer officers eligible to appointment as first and second lieutenants and the provision for retiring officers who served in the Civil War as of the next higher grade, was stricken out. The oleomargarine bill, which was postponed, may come up for consideration today.

THEY ARE ON THE ANXIOUS SEAT

Women Who Desire to Know Who
the Scarlet Women Are on Third Street.

A POLICEMAN WAS ON DECK

An Indignant Young Woman Asserts That an East Liverpool Policeman

A couple of women, one slender and young, the other portly and middle aged, visited the sanctum sanctorum of the News Review yesterday afternoon and desired to know whom we meant by scarlet women on Third street, and wanted that we should locate the house for them. The elder woman asserted that some one had said that we meant her, and she was very indignant at the allegation and determined to visit this office with the thought in her mind of endeavoring to ascertain definitely precisely whom we did mean. She further asserted that she was and is a lady, knows how to conduct herself, and will not willingly permit any one of bad or notorious character to remain in or about her domicile.

We assured her that we did not know her, and that no innocent person was meant in the articles which had appeared in this paper about the said notorious den of death and iniquity on Third street. We further assured her that the said dive does exist on Third street, that the proprietress thereof was vile beyond compare; that she was far more despicable than her whilom visitors or tenants; that we sincerely hoped, in case the law did not reach her at an early date, she would be tarred and feathered and dipped in the muddy Ohio. The elderly woman said that such a creature deserved just such punishment as we thus portrayed. And then the young woman, evidently desirous of being heard, said:

We informed her that we would like very much to know the policeman who had thus made himself sponsor for our thought and meaning, but the young damself failed to gratify our curiosity. We then assured the two visitors that time would fully develop the case in hand, and that we would give full publicity to the house in question, and the denizens thereof, whenever the infamous joint should be pulled, and the elderly woman bade us good day, while the frown upon the face of the younger woman would have caused chills to have wandered down over the spinal column of a sufferer from acute nervousness.

Later in the day a slender young lady, apparently modest and refined, appeared at our office, purchased a paper and said:

"Are you the editor?"

We assured her that we had the honor of answering to that dignified position, when she queried:

"I would like very much to know the location of the house which you speak of as the abode of scarlet women, situated somewhere on Third street. I am now a resident of Third street, and have been rooming there for some time. I believe I am in a house of good repute. I know that there is nothing wrong going on, so far as I can see or know. The landlady is very particular, as she informed me, when renting the room I now occupy, that I would not be permitted to take gentleman visitors to my private apartments. I am very

This latter lady was so deferential and urbane, so extremely pleasant and courteous, that we were sorry indeed that we were compelled to refuse to gratify her curiosity. We assured her, however, that we would endeavor to make the location of the den in question so well known to the public that the brazen inmates would not care to carry on their nefarious traffic, and would perforce be compelled to seek quarters elsewhere, while the shadow of the law will hang over them like a pall while they remain in this community.

CHESTER QUARRELS.

HE HAD A TALKING MATCH WITH THE PEOPLE AT THE BRIDGE.

Fights Were Very Numerous in Chester Yesterday, But Nobody Was Hurt.

About every so often Chester is stirred from center to circumference by fights of all kinds, and this regular period began on Wednesday when two women in the upper part of town had a pitched battle, in which honors were about even.

Yesterday the Pauley family, who keep the toll house, and Thomas Bambrick, came together. The trouble dates back to a time when E. E. Dornan, another clerk in the same grocery in which Bambrick is employed, came over the bridge driving the delivery wagon. On the Chester side of the bridge a young man got on the wagon and this party failed to pay any toll. When Dornan returned the other party was not on the wagon and some inquiry was made as to where the fellow was, as the bridge people had supposed he was a part of the outfit, otherwise he would have been charged his regular toll. Dornan said it was entirely their affair, as he had nothing to do with the fellow; he had gotten on of his own accord and he knew nothing about the affair.

The bridge people were naturally a trifle sore at this and concluded to be more careful in the future.

Accordingly when Bambrick came along later with the same outfit they supposed he was the same man, and the fact that Bambrick did have an assistant with him on this occasion who was not required to pay his way only made matters worse, and he was compelled to pay toll for his man.

It was now Bambrick's turn to get sore, and he was. Yesterday young Pauley and Bambrick came together and a free-for-all fight was only avoided by the interference of friends.

The day following the American Mechanics' social in Chester an ice cream freezer containing some two gallons and a half of the delicacy was placed on a street car by William Allison, who told the motorman and conductor to help themselves. This they did with a vengeance, and not only this, but distributed the stuff with a lavish hand to their friends at the toll house and other points along the line.

Now it transpires that Butcher Bill did not own the ice cream and the employees in taking him at his word made a mistake.

The committee from the Mechanics, who had charge of affairs at the social, were instructed to make an investigation as to what become of the cream, they having contracted with the restaurant man to take back what they did not use, and it had been reported to them that the freezer was empty when he got it.

The committee did as they were instructed and the result of the investigation was that the above facts were brought out. Their next move was to visit the company's office in East Liverpool and inform the officials of the matter. There they were promised that the loss would be made good after the two employees had been confronted and admitted their connection with the affair.

Last night one of the members of the committee got on a car in charge of the two men in question and a lively time ensued. He had no sooner gotten comfortably seated when the motorman accosted him in language more forcible than elegant, demanding that he refrain from circulating the report that they stole the ice cream, as all the small boys on that side of the river were yelling at them. The committeeman would not be bluffed, and for some time it looked as though blood would be spilled, but the motorman could not leave the car and the trip was made without any more serious trouble than a wordy

Given Fearful Lambasting In Parliament.

EXTREME HATRED WAS SHOWN.

The Colonial Secretary Heard Allegations In Silence For Hours, but Finally Made One Interruption—He Later Made a Denial of the Charges.

London, Dec. 7.—The fifteenth parliament of the reign of Queen Victoria opened, and before the lights went out in the ancient chambers almost every leading politician had spoken.

Such fierce personal animosity and such bitter invectives had scarcely ever before marked proceedings at Westminster.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, was the center of the storm. The policy of the empire regarding South Africa and China, the action of the government in causing a dissolution when it did, the conduct of the war against the Boers, and, in fact, all the questions vitally affecting the empire were gravely discussed and explained, but dominating all was the opposition's hatred of the colonial secretary. From Lord Rosebery's veiled allusions in the house of lords, when he assumed what many took to be the practical leadership of the Liberal party, to the outspoken comment in the house of commons, criticism of Mr. Chamberlain permeated almost every utterance from the Liberal benches.

For hours this target of satire and abuse sat with his head on one side, listening intently, unmoved by groans or cheers. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman shook his notes in Mr. Chamberlain's face and declared that a man who published private letters for political purposes (referring to the Clark-Ellis correspondence) would be excluded from the society of all honorable men and ostracized for life had he resorted to such action as a private individual.

Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, referring to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's suave regrets at the departure of Mr. George J. Goschen and Sir Matthew White Ridley from the front bench, said he believed that Sir Henry was so generous that he would even find good even in Mr. Chamberlain, should the latter be removed to another sphere. A Liberal shouted, "We draw the line somewhere," and both sides of the house roared with laughter.

Once Mr. Chamberlain interrupted and leaped to his feet. A thrill went through the house. "It is not so," he declared, and proceeded to deny the allegation that he had said that any seat lost to the government during the recent election was one sold to the Boers.

Later he rose to reply to the avalanche of attack launched against him. How great a strain he had undergone was evident in the scarcely suppressed excitement of tone in one rarely known to show feeling in the house.

He denied he had ever accused Mr. Ellis of being a traitor. He denied also that he had decried any accusations against his own personal integrity. He declared that the special purpose of the meeting of parliament had been forgotten in an attack upon himself. Irritated beyond control by frequent interruptions and disturbances, he called one of the Liberals, and the excitement, a "lead."

The speaker called him to order and Mr. Chamberlain withdrew the epithet, apologizing for its use.

After defending the publication of the Ellis correspondence he was cut off by the midnight adjournment.

A Number of Stocks Gained Near a Point, but Movement Was Apparently One of Special Stocks.

New York, Dec. 7.—A determined effort was manifest in the stock market Thursday to attract a renewal of speculation for a rise.

Quite a number of important stocks achieved gains of near a point, but a careful scrutiny of the market showed that the movement all day was distinctly one of special stocks. The low-priced, non-dividend paying railroad stocks were the favorites, especially the Erie and the Wabash issues, both stocks and bonds. Nothing authoritative could be learned to explain this movement, which rumor attributed both to buying for Vanderbilt control and to joint plans for consolidation and through traffic arrangements for the two lines. The rise extended to over two points in Erie first preferred, and to 2½ in the second preferred, and both closed at about the top, being practically the only stocks in the lists to do so.

Besides these stocks there were upwards of 30 stocks selling under 40, which were advanced from a half to 1½ per cent. St. Joe and Grand Isl. and first preferred jumped five points on prospects of a dividend increase. The Green Bay and Western issues were strong, though the principal activity was in the debenture Bs. Sugar was active and feverish all day, and apparently the traders were seeking to retrieve their losses on the bull side by a bear campaign. They circulated a report of the serious illness of the president of the company, which was denied. The stock fell an extreme 3½, and closed only slightly better at a net loss of 2¼. Tennessee Coal was even more acutely affected and fell altogether 5½ to 6½, closing at the lowest with a loss of 4¼ on the day. The report was confidently disseminated that it had been determined to pass the next dividend on the stock. The increase in the dividend rate for the half year on Denver and Rio Grande preferred from 2 to 2½ per cent caused a late advance in that stock of 1¾ and in the common stock of 1¼. This caused a sympathetic hardening in the market, but prices did not hold in the specialties. There was no appreciable change in money market conditions.

The bond market was active and consistently strong, many low grade junior and contingent interest bonds advancing strongly. Total sales, par value, $6,425,000.

United States new 4s declined ½ per cent on the last call.

LADY LABOR DELEGATES.

Three at American Federation Convention—Representatives From Great Britain and Canada.

Louisville, Dec. 7.—Prominent among the delegates at the American Federation of Labor are the three women representatives—Miss Sarah Gresham, of Stratford, Ill.; Mrs. Emma Lamphere, of Galesburg, Ill., and Miss Ellen King, of Petersburg, Ind. Each represents a labor organization.

Among those on the stage were Samuel Weir, the delegate from Scotland, and Peter Curran, representing the British trades union congress.

There are two protests against the seating of delegates, the first by the National Brewers' union, filed against the Stationary Firemen and Engineers' Brotherhood, and by the United Garment Makers' union against the Chicago Central Labor Union. The protests are on questions of jurisdiction. Evidence will be heard by the committee on credentials and a report made to the convention.

Treasurer John B. Lennon read his report, which was referred to the proper committee.

The chair appointed committees on rules and order of business, president's report, executive council's report, treasurer's report, resolutions, laws, organization, labels, boycotts, grievances and local and federated bodies.

Some time was devoted to the presentation and reference to the proper committees of resolutions and the report of the committee on rules.

There were also delegates from Canada; also two colored delegates.

During the session President Gompers read his annual address. Among other things he declared opposition to compulsory arbitration. On strikes he said in part:

"It is our aim to avoid strikes; but I trust that the day will never come when the workers of our country will have so far lost their manhood and independence to refuse to strike regardless of the provocation, or to surrender their right to strike. We seek to prevent strikes, but we realize that the best means by which they can be averted is to be the better prepared for them."

At another point he said in part: "There were issued, during the year from national and international unions and the American Federation of Labor (direct) charters to the following: Newly formed unions, 3,375; charters surrendered or unions disbanded, 348, leaving a net increase of local unions for the year of 3,027." Secretary Frank Morrison presented his report to the convention.

GENERAL EGAN RETIRED.

Colonel Weston Will Soon Be Promoted to Be Head of the Commissary Department.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president closed the unsavory Egan-Miles episode by restoring General Charles P. Egan, the suspended commissary general, to the active list and immediately retiring him under authority of the law permitting the retirement of officers after 30 years of active service. Egan was practically forced on the retired list under threat that if he did not retire now the president would see to it that, when the time came for his restoration to active service, he should be held off until after the arrival of the time for his retirement on account of age.

An officer under sentence of suspension cannot be retired, hence the effectiveness of this argument. By going on the list now, Egan loses one-fourth of his pay of $7,500 for four years, the remainder of the time he was to have remained suspended.

The pressure brought on Egan was not for the purpose of punishing him still further for the offense against General Miles, but for the purpose of correcting a flagrant injustice to Colonel "Jack" Weston, the acting commissary general, who has been doing the work of a brigadier general for the pay of a colonel, who will, it is expected, be promoted to the place.

Weston would have retired before Egan's suspension came to an end, so there was double reason for forcing Egan out. Colonel Weston's appointment to be commissary general will be made in a few days.

The term gardener implied much more a few generations ago than it does today. Young men paid heavy premiums to get in as apprentices under learned gardeners, and when at the end of the term they were invested with the "blue apron" most of them would compare favorably in general intelligence with the graduates of our modern universities.

$4 for Boy's Suits, Top Coats, and Reefers

Taken from our $5.00 and $5.50 Assortments.

Just to make a more than usual stir in the boy's department, we make this one price for choice of many elegant suits, reefers and top coats. Those superior productions which few houses carry at any price and for which the Erlanger store has become famous. Remember please, not all our $5 lots, but all those which, having been good sellers, have left odds and ends and broken sizes. Those who participate in this sale get values which may not be repeated in many months.

$3.50 for Boy's Suits in handsome 3 piece styles, coats, pants and vests, 3 to 10 years. Also Chinchilla and Boucle Reefers, which no other store in $5.00 E. Liverpool can duplicate under.....
